The UCAT Data Submission Files will be used for reporting of Student Headcount, Membership Hours, and Certificates issued. These elements are consistent with the requirements needed for the reporting of data to outside agencies including IPEDS, COE and Perkins. This data is used to facilitate matching with Department of Work Force Services and Utah System of Higher Education. This data will be loaded into the Utah Data Alliance tracking database.

Additional Explanations:

Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) will be determined using a campus's membership hours as defined in UCAT Policy 201 Membership Hour Reporting and dividing by 900. The FTE will be different based on the outside reporting it is used for i.e. IPEDS or COE as each campus may have students that are being excluded from their individual reporting.

The training provided to each student is of equal value to that given any other student served by UCAT, regardless of the training objective. Upon enrolling, each student is identified with one of the training objectives. Upon exiting, the student's performance is evaluated to determine the level of program completion. The campus will then follow-up with the student to determine the outcome of his/her training after leaving the College.

Element: U-37

ELEMENT NAME: Delivery Method

FIELD NAME: U_DEL_METH

FIELD DATA TYPE: NVarchar

FIELD FORMAT: 1 Character

DEFINITION: The method of delivery by which the preponderance of instruction is transmitted.

Field Value	Field Attribute or Example	Effective Date
P	Face-to-Face: Course is taught primarily in person - classroom based. This includes workbook courses with instruction, and courses with technology-delivered components such as online syllabi, online lecture notes, slide presentations, or videotapes of live lectures. Technology may be providing administrative or logistical support to the class, but does not significantly impact students' learning experience.	1-Jul-06
R	Interactive Audio/Video: Course is taught via remote interactive video and audio (i.e., EdNET, Satellite) from an origination site to one or more receive sites or via streaming media technologies. Lectures and assignments are delivered in real time, one-way from the instructor to students (Satellite), with two-way exchange capabilities between instructor and student (EdNET), or accessed online on demand via streaming audio/video.	1-Jul-06
I	Online: Students access a Website for course instructions, lectures, assignments and materials, and to communicate with the instructor and with other students. Internet courses may have face-to-face orientation sessions or exam reviews; however, the time and place-specific requirements are minimal. Internet classes promote Web-based interactivity between students and instructors, students and internet-based communities, and among students.	1-Jul-06
C	Correspondence: Course is delivered in print form, either as hard or electronic copy. No Instructor present however; students may use mail, phone, fax, or email to contact the instructor and/or submit assignments. Students work at their own pace without significant interaction with instructor or other students in the class. Courses are generally enrolled open entry/open exit.	1-Jul-06

B	Blended: 49% or less of the required instructional hours is via distance education. The technology-delivered components in these courses, such as online chat sessions, or online video lectures, significantly impact the learning experience and reduce the amount of classroom time.	1-Jul-09
L	Lockstep: A course where there is a defined entry and defined exit date. No open entry/open exit.	1-Jul-09

COMMENTS: Last modified April 20, 2012

Element: U-53

ELEMENT NAME: Pell Grant Recipients

FIELD NAME: U_PELL

FIELD DATA TYPE: NVarchar

FIELD FORMAT: 1 Character

DEFINITION: Pell grant recipients must be defined consistent with Pell guidelines with postsecondary/adult students enrolled at least half-time (based on the Pell definition of half-time), and have declared themselves as applied technology majors. NOTE*** if students are multiple recipients of Pell, BIA, or WIA/DWS they must only be listed once in the following order: First, Pell; Second, BIA; Third, WIA/DWS.

Information submitted from all institutions is subject to audit. Any institution expected to receive more than a 10 percent increase in funding over the prior year (not counting any overall increase in the grant) will be audited. Records from Finance, which show the students name, SSN, and number of hours that the student was registered, and Pell records will be audited to determine eligibility for Pell.

The DWS referral will be the audit document to determine eligibility of DWS recipients. The date for the referral will be used to determine the current eligibility for the year. Any student who was referred in the fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) would be counted in that period. If a recipient began in one fiscal year and was still being served in the next fiscal year, they would be counted in the year that they started unless it could be shown that they could not be counted in the previous year. A separate DWS referral will be required for each year a student is counted for Perkins funding.

75 percent of the formula is allocated for Pell/BIA recipients and 25 percent for WIA/DWS recipients.

Documentation: Each recipient must maintain documentation from the service provider verifying each student's eligibility for services.

The DWS referral will be the audit document to determine eligibility of DWS recipients. The date for the referral will be used to determine the current eligibility for the year. Any student who was referred in the fiscal year (July 1 to June 30) would be counted in that period. If a recipient began in one fiscal year and was still being served in the next fiscal year, they would be counted in the year that they started unless it could be shown that they could not be counted in the previous year. A separate DWS referral will be required for each year a student is counted for Perkins funding.

75 percent of the formula is allocated for Pell/BIA recipients and 25 percent for WIA/DWS recipients.

Documentation: Each recipient must maintain documentation from the service provider verifying each student's eligibility for services.
